THE RAYMOND LION

The Lions Club is off to a flying start for the coming season. The first regular meeting for the fall term was held Monday, September 18 at 7:30 in the Club Rooms at the Opera House. A bit of heat was in order but not forthcoming. However the business soon warmed the atmosphere.

The first meeting in September is a special day—a big effort to get 100 per cent of the Club membership out in honor of the new President. Several of the Lions were out of town—including the prexy. A few were very busy on farms and a couple just too tired. Our new First Vice-President, Joe McLean officiated and did a splendid job. Most of the big shots were missing so Joe appointed Jack Evans Tall Twister and "M. T." Lion Tamer for the evening.

Mrs. Joe Thompson and her daughter-in-law served a very delicious meal. Other interests and duties caused our former caterers to withdraw—this was the first time for the Thompson ladies. The gang are well pleased. Thanks to Mrs. Thompson and to Arldige.

Most of the meeting was taken up in a discussion of ways and means. Means to carry on the excellent projects of the Lions and ways to raise the means. We are in the same trouble that most families find themselves. A friend and neighbor expressed it this way "Oh, yes it is easy enough to make money these days but it is certainly a tough job to make a living." For some mismanaged reason "nobody gets as much money as he spends. If anyone can think of some way the Lions Club can make something pay off, come in—we would be very happy to talk to you.

Would any of you like to see a Harness Racing Circuit brought to Raymond. Not many of our younger people have seen trotters or pacers race with sulks. If we could get enough people enthused it may be possible to join a circuit and have Race Meets held here in Raymond. What would you like?

"Did you know that happiness is your Heritage? Isn't it strange that a world made by the giver of all good and held in the hollow of his hand, contains people who persist in preaching the gospel of DON'T, DOUBT, and DAMN? Pity the man or woman whose heart can no longer respond to the sweet symphony of human sentiment, and whose capacity for enjoyment is atrophied. In the old days man was born to buriel. Years did sometimes intervene — though they should not. Isn't happiness a divine heritage, too?

Don't pass up the pleasure of living. A mummy hasn't had any fun for thousands of years and is not likely to have any more. He had his big opportunity. That man who burys himself in work, with no thought of pleasure, intent only on the daily take, is already a mummy. The world could still do quite as well without him. How much better it is to live, to laugh, to love. Let not one of us become a mummy.

—Tales from the Lions Den

Waitress: "Well, I have stewed kidneys, boiled tongue, fried liver and pigs feet."

D'ner: "Don't tell me your personal troubles. Please bring me a chicken pie."

The Friday Nite Club met at the home of Mrs. Fannie McBride last week with Mrs. Julie Tollestrup as co-hostess. Mrs. Rhoda Allred reviewed "The Life of Nehru" and a delicious lunch was served.

Mrs. June Allred was honored at a surprise party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allred on Saturday night.

The evening was enjoyably spent playing Rook with high honors going to Mrs. Lucy Stevens and John Schaalje and low honors to Mrs. Emma Webster and the honored guest.

Those present, Mr. and Mrs. John Schaalje, Mrs. Emma Webster, Mrs. Lucy Stevens, Mrs. Vera Schneidt, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Romeril, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Allred, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allred, presented Mrs. Allred with a lovely gift.

A delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lund of Rosemary were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenney.

WI Learn About Atomic Attacks

The Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Fanny McBride with the president, Mrs. Doris Hall presiding. After singing "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Maxwellton Braes are Bonnie", the Creed was led by Mrs. Fern Selby. The Roll Call was answered by handing in an article for the Bazaar to be held in October.

A letter was read from the Salvation Army and it was decided to send $2.00 to them and $10.00 to the Library Fund.

Mrs. Norma Meldrum gave a paper on "What to do in case of an Atomic Attack" and how to care for food and water during an attack.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Woolley and a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. McBride to eighteen members and one guest.

After a Sing Song the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Dahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Bennett of Picture Butte visited friends here on Sunday.

A group of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bridge Tuesday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hill who are leaving shortly; Cal to the East as Educational Officer in the RCAF and Margaret to Taber.

At the conclusion of an enjoyable evening of visiting, a delicious lunch was served and the Guests of Honor were presented with a set of Bedroom Lamps.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McLean, Karen, and Sandra Kirkham were visitors in Great Falls over the week-end.

Sept. 28 Is Deadline For School Bids

While in Edmonton recently in connection with the south road J. Golden Snow met with Mr. Jewers of the School Building Branch and Mr. Balfour of the School Administration Branch of the Department of Education concerning the new school for Raymond.

A division of the Provincial Department of Education has been appointed agent for the School Board for the sale of the debentures.

It is hoped that a considerable portion of the work on the new building will be done this fall. Bids are now being called and contractors have until the 28th of September to quote prices etc. to the School Board. There are more than a dozen sets of plans out for the building which will be constructed of concrete and brick much after the fashion of the new Allan Watson School in Lethbridge.

The new school that will have 12 classrooms, will be joined onto the Opera House, which will be left entirely as is, at the northwest corner. Work on the school should commence in the near future.

Doris Lutz Weds Sailor

The Legion Hall was attractively decorated with pink and white streamers Monday night for the wedding of Doris Marion Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lutz, and Stephen Alexander Nemeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nemeth.

Bishop J. Golden Snow performed the ceremony in front of a beautiful flowered arch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. Her fingerth veil was held in place by a dainty coronet and she carried a bouquet of tallman roses. Miss Marge Sugai, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink satin and net and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Gloria Lutz, sister of the bride and Marquette Anderson were flower girls.

The groom was dressed in the uniform of the Royal Canadian Navy and was attended by Gale Attwood.

Jeanine Jensen was soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. Emma Dahl at the piano.

Bishop Snow was Master of Ceremonies at the Wedding Reception which followed. The program consisted of vocal numbers by Jeanine Jensen, accordion solos by Don Petrak, trumpet solos by Doran Flexhaug and a duet by Don Petrak and Tim Court.

Serviteurs for the delicious lunch were Evelyn Heggie, Grace Selman, Yvonne Meeks and Mary Snow. Gladys Wegwitz was in charge of the Guest Book and Mrs. Flexhaug and Mrs. Winters accepted and arranged the many lovely gifts.

For going away the bride wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brandley were hosts to a Study Class with Mrs. Margaret Taylor presenting a very enjoyable lesson.

A very tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

Road Delegates Travel To Edmonton

On Saturday of last week a meeting of interested parties was held in the Town Hall to protest the government's proposed plan to make a detour on the road leading south from Raymond at Card's Coulee.

As a result of this meeting a delegation headed by Ray Depew travelled to Edmonton to confer with the Minister of Highways, Hon. Gordon Taylor, and the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. D. A. Ure. The delegation made up of Mr. Depew, J. G. Snow, Paul Redd, Rulon Dahl and Phil Baker were given a good reception in the capital by Mr. Ure who told them that their problem would receive consideration. The interview with Mr. Taylor was not at all satisfactory due to Mr. Taylor's unbending attitude and his almost flat refusal to do anything for the delegation.

The present plan for the road is to have detours around the ends of the lake that will be created by the big irrigation project. This would mean a large expense to the Municipality for the construction of this approximately fourteen miles of detour. The road, incidentally, would run cross country, cutting up farm lands indiscriminately.

The plan favored by those concerned is to have a fill and a bridge across the lake. This would cost considerable more money but in the long run it is felt that the added expenditure would be justified.

Mr. Ure said that a study will be made of the proposed plan.

The delegation also conferred with Mr. Ben Russel while in Edmonton.

Mrs. Ray Depew accompanied the men on their trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nalder returned this week from Salt Lake where Bill attended a Seminary Convention.

Recommend'd Reading

"For Alberta, the brimming best is yet to come".

That is the last sentence in a very informative and interesting article on Alberta in the issue of "Time" magazine dated September 24th, 1951. This article, comprising almost three pages, is mainly on Alberta's oil but the sugar beet and canning industries of the southern part of the province are also mentioned. We heartily recommend this article as fine reading.

Scout Committee Organize

At a meeting held last Wednesday night at the Town Hall the group interested in the Boy Scouts met to decide on a plan for the fund-raising campaign to commence here next week. The Group Committee for each Ward was given the responsibility of conducting a house-to-house canvass in their own area.

Winston Shaw is the man to see in the First Ward, Warren Jones in the Second Ward, Harry Fairbanks in the Third Ward and Ezra Christensen in the Fourth Ward. Any of these men will gladly accept your contributions and your offer to assist in the canvass. Mr. Grant and Mr. Magee are contacting the businesses.

An official receipt will be issued to the donor and these contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

Don't forget—the quota set is one dollar per household. Do your share to carry the financial load of the Scout movement and make your contribution today.

Raymond Is Growing

This may come as a surprise to some of you—it did to us—but the official population of Raymond is only 2,278. At the time of the last census in 1941, the Sugar City had a population of 2,089 persons and it was widely thought that our present population was very close to 2,450—where are another couple of hundred citizen's?

In the past ten years our town has increased its population by about 9% as did our neighbor Magrath that had 1297 people in 1941 and 1318 in 1951.

These gains are not startling but they do show that people have faith in the future of our communities. Faith in the future and an expanded industrial program will continue these towns on their climb up the ladder of success.

Gary Kirkham, who is employed by Leavitt and Tollestrup at Blairmore, was a week-end visitor here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arldige Hill have as their guest, Mrs. Hill's grandmother Mrs. Hammer of Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Swedish recently entertained at a Bridge Party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Magee. Mr. Magee is the new manager of the Treasury Branch.

The prizes were won by Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Magee; high and low respectively.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rasmussen were pleasantly surprised on Thursday when a long-time friend, Laura Thordensen of Winnipeg, called on them. She was on her way to Vancouver and just made a brief stop-over here to renew acquaintances.

Prizes Not Big Enough

It seems that the prizes we offered for answering the questions on Korea were not big enough. Only three students bothered bringing in any answers at all.

Jacqueline Hyde answered the most questions correctly with 21 marks, Ronnie Larsen was next with 17 and Marlene Wilde with 13.

If these people will call at the Recorder Office we will give them their prize.

Emigration From Canada

Every country loses population by emigration, but the yearly exodus has caused considerable anxiety in Canada, a growing country which can ill afford to lose manpower. At present particularly, any loss of manpower is serious, when we are finding it necessary to consider every available source of manpower for defence and civilian industry.

Until recently, accurate estimates of the numbers and characteristics of the people leaving Canada were not available, although it was known that they came largely from the more highly-trained and skilled part of the working force. A recent paper prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics offers, for the first time, a breakdown, by age, sex, occupation and province of origin, of those emigrating during the two years ending June 1950.

The figures used in the preparation of the paper are based on the number of applications received by the Foreign Exchange Control Board for change of status from resident to non resident. They, therefore, do not include every emigrant. However, most persons leaving the country do apply to the Board, and it is known that the information does cover the bulk of emigrants.

The paper shows that, over the past two years, about 26,000 persons annually have left Canada. The United States, of course, attracted the greatest number of emigrants—about 76 per cent each year—while between 15 and 16 per cent went to the United Kingdom.

Over the two years covered by the report about 90% of the men and 60 per cent of the women who emigrated had been gainfully employed in Canada. The greater part of the emigrants thus came from our producing population. More than that, the emigrating groups included a very high proportion of persons with the skill and specialized training which are particularly needed here at the present time.

The age group in which most of the force is found—the 20-64 group—supplied about 70 per cent of the emigrants, although only about 55 per cent of the whole population are in this age group. A breakdown of the group shows that about 38 per cent of the emigrants were aged 20 to 34, about 22 per cent were aged 35 to 49 and about ten per cent were aged 50 to 64.

Among the men the largest group worked in manufacturing occupations and included such skilled tradesmen as mechanics and repairmen, machinists, and tool die makers. Second among the occupations was professional service, the group which includes doctors, engineers, teachers, artists and scientists. These two groups make up 40 per cent of the gainfully occupied male emigrants, although they account for only 20 per cent of the country's population. Those with occupations in the trade and construction groups were also high on the lists.

Of the gainfully occupied women, 84 per cent were in three occupational groups—clerical, professional service and personal service, in that order. Again the proportion of emigrants in these occupations was higher than the proportion in the whole population. More than 10 per cent of all gainfully occupied female emigrants were graduate nurses.

The number leaving Canada in the 12 months ending June, 1950 was 23,764, a drop of 4,300 from the previous year. However, there was an upward trend again during the last six months of 1950. In each year, the female emigrants outnumbered the males by about 1,000. In the year ending June 1950, 75 per cent went to the United Kingdom, and the distribution was very similar in 1949.

The largest proportion of the emigrants, about 44½ per cent, came from Ontario. British Columbia was next with about 19 per cent, followed by Quebec with 14 per cent, Alberta and Manitoba with slightly more than five per cent each and Saskatchewan with a little less than four per cent. Together, the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland supplied about seven per cent of the emigrants.

KOREAN ADVENTURES

Part 2

Before answering these Korean questions, do find or invest in a map. A large colored map of the world or a globe should be in every home where school age boys and girls are growing up. Don't have a map folded neatly away in a drawer, but put it up on a wall at the child's level. Encourage your child's natural curiosity about maps by getting him to look up places mentioned in the newspaper.

Families often listen regularly to radio news broadcasts, but they should also take time to discuss current events. If you have enjoyed working on this Quiz on Korea in your home, why not make a regular place for talking over national and world events in the family time schedule? Friday night after supper or Saturday after the noon meal are times when some homes slate their "Buzz Session" on "What's going on in the World".

Here are the answers to last week's questions.

- Other names for Korea are Chosen—the Land of Dawn or Morning Light or Land of Morning Calm.
- The Koreans are (c) a distinct race, different from other orientals. Koreans are thought to be descendants from both nomadic Mongolian tribes mixed with Caucasian peoples of Western Asia.
- The area of the Korean Peninsula is Eighty-Five Thousand square miles. (Which is nearly twice as big as Nova Scotia and New Brunswick together.)
- The approximate distance between Canada and Korea is over 4000 miles.
- (b) There are almost 30 million Koreans. (Over twice as many as our 14 million Canadians.)
- The climate in Korea is temperate—similar to that in the North Eastern section of U. S., but with a heavier summer rainfall.
- Korean countryside is (c) mountainous. The Ever White mountains are in the North and the Diamond Mountains along the East Coast.
- In Korea rice is the most popular food, and vegetables, fruit, fish and poultry are also used in large quantities.
- (a) False, (b) True, (c) True. Korean civilization is not as old as China, but much older than Japan or Western civilization. The legendary founder of Korea lived over 4000 years ago. In 1122 B. C. Ki Ja, a Chinese refugee with 5000 followers migrated to Korea to set up a dynasty which lasted almost 1000 years.
- Koreans do respect scholars. (b) is correct. The modern Korean alphabet of twenty-five letters has been a factor making Koreans one of the more literate of Oriental peoples.
- (b) All three ancient faiths have colored Korean codes but teachings of Confucius have the greatest influence on the ethical system.
- Christians form less than 5 per cent of the population—possibly 3 per cent of Native Koreans are Christians.
- False. Korean women in many ways, enjoy more freedom than most Oriental women. In the new Republic of Korea, they have the franchise at twenty-one. Their feet have never been bound.
- With (b) and (c). A "tortoise boat" or the world's first iron-clad vessel was used by Admiral Yi Soon-Sin and a flying bomb was invented by Lee Chang Son in 1592 to repulse the Japanese.
- The Koreans used a spinning wheel (in the 14th century) movable metal type (early in the 15th century) as well as astronomical and surveying instruments (in the 15th century) a mariner's compass and an observation balloon (in the 16th century) Three hundred years before the famous Brooklyn Suspension Bridge was built, the Koreans built bridges of this design.
- The United States (in 1883) forced Korean doors open.
- Korea, the "bone of contention" between the two great powers Russia and Japan, became a protectorate of Japan, the victor nation. Five years later Japan quietly annexed the Korean peninsula.
- The Japanese occupation was (b) Repressive. The Korean language was not taught in the schools and school children were punished for speaking it. The Japanese filled all the best positions in the land, seized most of the wealth and treated the Koreans as an inferior race.

- At the conclusion of the First World War, when there was talk of the rights of small nations, a group of thirty-three men, chosen by the people, signed a declaration of independence. This peaceful request for freedom on March 1, 1919 was crushed by the Japanese with thoroughness and bloodshed. But an underground nationalist movement continued.
 - The average South Korean is a farmer—although less than 1/4 of the land in South Korea is tillable.
 - (b) and (c) About one half of her rice crop has been imported by Japan. In 1939 Korea won sixth position as a fish exporting nation. Korea lacks oil even for her own use.
 - (a) The men wear loose white robes and baggy trousers and the women close fitting jackets and bright flowing skirts. (This traditional dress was copied from the Chinese styles used in the ancient Ming dynasty.)
 - (b) The national animal is the fierce Korean tiger.
 - (c) The Korean flag is white—it has a circular device in the centre in red and blue colors, and a three bar blue design in each corner.
 - (b) is correct. After the Second World War, the Japanese had to withdraw and Russian troops occupied 56% of Korea north of the 38th parallel and American troops the remaining area of 44%. Over 9 million Koreans live in the North almost 20 million in the South.
 - False. Elections were held on August 15th, 1948 with almost 90% of the electorate voting. Syngman Rhee then became first President of the Korean Republic (Southern Area)
 - False. The U. N. repeatedly offered its service in the cause of the unification of Korea but was consistently rebuffed by North Korea under Communist domination.

PROTECTING STORED GRAIN
The prospect of bumper grain crops in Western Canada, combined with a late harvest, shortage of space in country elevators, and low delivery quotas, indicate that this year large quantities of grain will have to be stored on farms for long periods. Dr. H. E. Gray and Dr. B. Smallman, Canada's outstanding grain storage experts have outlined a number of simple rules and practices which, if followed by farmers, will prevent the danger of large grain storage losses this winter. A brief summary follows.

Points to Remember. Success in preventing spoilage in stored grain depends upon two conditions: (1) proper preparation of storage space, and (2) care and attention after storage begins. Excess moisture causes most storage troubles. The first important job, therefore, is to bin grain as dry as possible. Secondly, stored grain should be examined periodically, because leaks, seepage or condensation may introduce excessive moisture and cause local heating. Thirdly, if insect or mould infestation should develop, serious damage may be prevented by transferring the grain to a clean granary, a tarpaulin, or the bare ground during freezing weather. Cleaning the grain during transfer is strongly recommended. The western farmers' greatest ally in preventing serious grain storage losses is cold weather. Every farmer should take full advantage of this fact.

Some Practical Suggestions. (1) A granary or building with a wooden floor above ground is best for grain storage. If the floor is concrete cover it with moisture-proof paper. (2) Repair leaky roofs, windows and doors to exclude rain and snow. (3) Make sure the walls and floors are clean. (4) Provide plenty of ventilation. Fill the granary to the plate only. (5) Examine your stored grain stocks at least every two weeks.

Farmers who run into a serious grain storage problem should seek help from their local elevator agent or write directly for advice and information to the Stored Products Insect Laboratory, Winnipeg.

"What's new?"

AS HE PULLS UP at the end of his day's run, it's just his friendly way of saying "hello". But if there is some important development in town, he expects his friend the bank manager will know about it: . . . plans for enlarging the school . . . the chance of a new factory opening up . . .

It's part of the bank man's job to know his community. His customers expect him to know "what's new" in other parts of Canada and elsewhere, too . . . business facts, leads to new markets at home and abroad for farm as well as factory.

You will find your bank manager well posted, and ready to serve you. Chartered banks work that way.
